

College of DuPage European Studies Committee, La Connexion Française (French Club) and Alliance Française de DuPage present a musical celebration:

Dennis Stroughmatt et L'Esprit Creole

Hidden in the Ozarks of southern Illinois, Indiana and Missouri is a music and culture often compared to the Joie de Vivre of Quebec and Louisiana's Fais Do Do. With fingers and bows flying, Dennis Stroughmatt and L'Esprit Creole take listeners on a musical odyssey, with a vibrant blend of Celtic, Canadian and Old Time sounds. Preserved by families in the Ozark foothills, this music remains largely intact and true to the traditions that were passed down over three centuries.

This event is free and open to the public. For Americans with Disabilities accommodations call (630) 942-2141 (voice) or (630) 858-9692 (TDD). For program information contact Mirta Pagnucci pagnuccim@cod.edu or visit www.afdupage.com
